Arkansas Environmental Federation Air Seminar: Amy McGraw (Trinity Consultants) Reporting and Recordkeeping 101 Presentation

Arkansas Environmental, Energy, and Water Law Blog

04/28/2016

Amy McGraw of Trinity Consultants undertook a presentation at the Arkansas Environmental Federation's April 12th seminar in Little Rock, Arkansas.

Ms. McGraw's presentation addressed a variety of issues associated with Clean Air Act reporting and recordkeeping.

The presentation outlined a variety of recordkeeping, testing, reporting, and inspection requirements associated with an Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality ("ADEQ") Minor Source Air Permit.

The presentation addressed issues such as:

- Recordkeeping
- Length (daily, weekly, etc.)
- Averages (hourly, etc.)
- Recordkeeping storage length
- Testing
- Sources of testing requirements for ADEQ, EPA, or both
- Reporting (noting both ADEQ and EPA Region VI have requirements for reporting certain conditions and events)
- Inspections (ADEQ typically undertakes annually)

The presentation also provided recommendations such as:

- Understanding the process
- Review of the permit
- Looking for action items

Ms. McGraw supplied examples in addressing these three educational suggestions.
