Throughout Arkansas, members of the Professional Liability Defense Team devote their efforts to the defense of various medical providers, including physicians, hospitals and nursing homes, in lawsuits alleging negligence. Team members have significant experience at all levels of litigation in defense of medical providers, including many trials resulting in verdicts in favor of the medical provider. Professional liability cases handled by Mitchell Williams generally involve large financial exposure and sophisticated legal and technical issues. Our services in this area include not only the defense of professional liability claims, but also advice on disciplinary and licensure matters.
