Nathan "Nate" Read is an accomplished employment attorney with substantial experience guiding employers through the intricacies of federal, state and local employment laws and regulations. Committed to helping clients cultivate compliant and positive workplace environments, he provides strategic counsel across a comprehensive array of employment law and regulatory matters. His experience encompasses assisting clients with responding to inquiries and investigations by state and federal regulatory agencies and representing them in contested matters. Collaborating with employers of various industries and sizes, he helps draft contracts, develop incentive compensation plans and prepare employee handbooks, codes of conduct and other policies and procedures that align with both regulatory compliance requirements and business objectives.

Nate is dedicated to empowering clients with the knowledge and resources necessary to navigate the continually evolving business landscape with confidence. By fostering enduring, trust-based relationships, he ensures his clients receive counsel tailored to address both their immediate needs and long-term goals. His practice is grounded in strategic planning and pragmatic solutions designed to promote the sustained success and growth of the organizations he serves.
