The 7th Annual Arkansas Environmental Policy Summit ("Summit") will be held on November 18th in Little Rock, Arkansas.

The Summit is being held as a hybrid event allowing participants to join either in person at the Little Rock Audubon Center or online via Zoom.

Audubon Delta in its announcement describes it as a one-day event:

. . . featuring advocates, elected officials, regulators, and group leaders discussing Arkansas environmental issues and solutions.

The keynote speaker will be Marshall Johnson, Chief Conservation Officer for the National Audubon Society. He is stated to lead strategic direction for hemispheric-wide conservation work at National Audubon addressing climate change and biodiversity crises facing birds.

Mr. Marshall previously served as Vice President, Executive Director of Audubon Dakota.

The Summit is sponsored by the following organizations:

- Audubon Delta
- Arkansas Citizens' Climate League
- Arkansas Interfaith Power & Light
- Arkansas Public Policy Panel
- Arkansas Sierra Club

The agenda and registration details will be forthcoming at a later date.
